Rules on letting this property

Properties can be let if they have an energy rating from A to E.

You can read guidance for landlords on the regulations and exemptions \(https://www.gov.uk/guidance/domestic-private-rented-property-minimum-energy-efficiency-standard-landlord-guidance\).

Energy rating and score

This property’s energy rating is C. It has the potential to be B.

See how to improve this property’s energy efficiency.

The graph shows this property’s current and potential energy rating.

Properties get a rating from A (best) to G (worst) and a score. The better the rating and score, the lower your energy bills are likely to be.

For properties in England and Wales:

- the average energy rating is D
- the average energy score is 60

Breakdown of property’s energy performance

Features in this property

Features get a rating from very good to very poor, based on how energy efficient they are. Ratings are not based on how well features work or their condition.

Assumed ratings are based on the property’s age and type. They are used for features the assessor could not inspect.

| Feature              | Description                                 | Rating    |
|----------------------|---|-----------|
| Wall                 | System built, as built, insulated (assumed) | Good      |
| Window               | Fully double glazed                         | Good      |
| Main heating         | Room heaters, electric                      | Very poor |

► About primary energy use

How this affects your energy bills

An average household would need to spend £464 per year on heating, hot water and lighting in this property. These costs usually make up the majority of your energy bills.

You could save £201 per year if you complete the suggested steps for improving this property's energy rating.

This is based on average costs in 2020 when this EPC was created. People living at the property may use different amounts of energy for heating, hot water and lighting.
